

Professor Tomas Buchler, M.D., Ph.D., graduated from the Faculty of Medicine at Comenius University in Bratislava in 2000. After graduation, he worked at the University Hospital in Brno, the Weatherall Institute of Molecular Medicine in Oxford, and the University College Hospital and St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London. From 2007 to 2022, he was a physician and subsequently the department head at the Department of Oncology, Charles University First Faculty of Medicine and Thomayer University Hospital. Since 2022, he has been the head of the Oncology Clinic of the Second Faculty of Medicine of Charles University and University Hospital in Motol.

With over 200 articles published in peer-reviewed international journals, his research predominantly focuses on the treatment of urological tumors. He has a keen interest in targeted cancer treatments, exploring innovative immunotherapy options, and late sequelae of malignancies and cancer treatments.